

Be a Catalyst

Every action makes a difference.

The Cleveland Rape Crisis Center (CRCC) couldn't survive without volunteers and supporters like you. Every year our volunteers contribute over 16,000 hours of service helping women, children and men who have experienced sexual violence. Your direct service, in-kind donations, and financial support make our advocacy, education, and therapeutic services possible.

Get involved:

- Volunteer on the 24-hour hotline and provide support and information to survivors and the community
- Become an advocate and assist survivors through the medical process and/or the criminal justice process
- Staff information tables at community events
- Make a tax-deductible financial contribution, and know that your dollars go directly to support free services to more than 12,000 people every year
- Make an in-kind donation of goods or services such as office and art supplies

It is estimated that one out of three women and one out of six men are survivors of sexual violence. The CRCC helps survivors recover and grow strong. Our vision is the elimination of sexual violence. But, as long as this crime persists, we will continue to serve survivors and equip the community with vital tools to help address rape and sexual assault.

You can help end sexual violence...
